

Select a Session Use Case - UC02

This use case demonstrates how a user chooses which therapy they will be using. The user can cycle through the groups by pressing the "switch session group" button. Then, the user can cycle through the session types by pressing the "switch session" button. By pressing the select button, the user can start the session, which commences with a connection test.

